iwork4me is a Scottish Charity working to provide specialised support to people with significant disadvantages, who have difficulty in accessing mainstream self employment assistance. This is achieved through information and advice services, promoting the benefits of self-employment as well as providing support projects. In particular, the charity has a focus on autism spectrum conditions (ASC).

iwork4me is seeking to become a membership organisation. As well as being part of a ground-breaking organisation and contributing to its development, membership will provide a small package of benefits which will grow as the organisation grows.

- Part of a growing network of self employed people with ASC
- Access to our information resource on supported self employment
- Invitations to meetings, information and networking events
- Quarterly e-newsletter
- Access to Forums

Just by joining as a member you will be playing a crucial part in our campaigns. The more members we have, the more influential we are and the more support services we can develop.
